

Booker Prize 2024

Posted at: 15/11/2024

Booker Prize 2024

- Winner: British author Samantha Harvey won the prestigious Booker Prize 2024 for her novel Orbital.
- About the Book: Orbital is a short novel filled with wonder that takes readers aboard the International Space Station. The novel explores themes of human connection, isolation, and the mysteries of space while offering a fresh perspective on life and existence.

About the Booker Prize

- Global Recognition: The Booker Prize is regarded as the world's most esteemed literary award for a single work of fiction. Winning this award represents international acclaim and recognition of literary excellence.
- Established in 1969: The prize was founded in the United Kingdom in 1969 and originally focused on awarding Commonwealth writers. Over time, it has evolved to include writers from any nationality, making it one of the most inclusive literary awards globally.
- Purpose and Vision: The Booker Prize aims to promote the finest in fiction by rewarding the best novel of the year. It seeks to highlight exemplary storytelling, creativity, and literary quality while enriching the global literary landscape.

Eligibility Criteria for the Booker Prize

- Language Requirement: To qualify for the Booker Prize, a novel must be an original work written in English. Translations are not eligible, ensuring that the prize highlights literature that directly represents the author's original voice and style.
- Publishing Requirement: The book must be published in the UK or Ireland within the prize year by a registered UK or Irish publisher. This criterion ensures the book meets professional publishing standards. Self-published books are not eligible, maintaining a consistent level of literary quality and industry recognition.
- Prize Money: The Booker Prize provides significant financial awards:
  - Winner's Reward: The author of the winning novel receives £50,000, a substantial prize intended to support and honor their creative work.
  - Shortlisted Authors' Reward: Each shortlisted author also receives £2,500, acknowledging their literary achievement and contribution to contemporary fiction.

About the Booker Prize Foundation

- Foundation's Role: The Booker Prize Foundation is a registered charity established in 2002. It manages the Booker Prize for Fiction and the Man Booker International Prize, supporting and celebrating excellence in fiction.
- Mission and Impact: Since 2005, the foundation has worked to ensure the longevity and integrity of the Booker Prize, promoting literary diversity and fostering a deeper appreciation for quality fiction. It strives to create opportunities for writers worldwide and amplify voices that contribute to global conversations in literature.

The Booker Prize plays a pivotal role not only in celebrating exceptional works of fiction but also in contributing to the global literary community. By spotlighting outstanding novels and fostering literary talent, the Booker Prize continues to support the art of storytelling and broaden the reach of remarkable voices across the world.

Dr. Shivakumar's

AKKA IAS ACADEMY
www.akkaias.com